

GET THAT JOB!!

Job Readiness: A Black Cultural Perspective

Monday, February 5th, 11am-1pm
Stockdale Room

If you are experiencing any of these thoughts or questions, join us to get a better insight on how to get that job you're hoping for.

- Can I show up as my authentic self?
- How do I present myself when job searching?
- I have a laid-back personality and love my cultural colloquialism. Can I speak in slang, or will I have to speak in proper English during my interview?
- Am I suffering from Imposter Syndrome?
- I love my braids, locs and coils. How do I wear my hair during an interview?
- My student budget is bleak. Where can I buy affordable, quality power suits and professional wear?

Emmanuel Ntui: Business Administration major with a concentration in Accounting. Member of the Excel Scholars, and the VITA Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program. Emmanuel works for the Student Access and Support, and Outreach departments along with Athletic Admissions.

Minaya Valentine: Environmental Resources Management major with a concentration in Environment Law. Member of the Intervarsity Club, President Environmental Resource Management (2021-2023), Liaison Black Women on Campus, Director of Special Population Association Student Incorporation, Member CSUB Model UN Club. Minaya is currently a Student Assistant in the Equity, Inclusion and Compliance Division of the Office of the President, Student Intern for Students for Quality Education, Black Faculty and Staff Student Ambassador. Basic Needs Ambassador (2022-2023), Food Panty Student Lead (2021-2023), and a 2023 Wendy Wayne Recipient.

▲ Lunch will be served

Event is sponsored by the Center for Career Education & Community Engagement, Equity, Inclusion and Compliance Office, Black Women on Campus Club, and the Excel Scholars Club