Advancing Nuclear Safety, Security, and Nonproliferation through the FIRST Program

FON:

DFOP0016986

Agency:

State

Item:

Notice seeking proposals for projects to provide technical capacity-building support to potential nuclear energy newcomer countries and current nuclear energy countries that are considering SMRs and other advanced reactor designs to meet their clean energy needs, consistent with the highest international standards of nuclear security, nonproliferation, and safety. FIRST is designed to enhance U.S. bilateral and multilateral cooperation, consistent with the International Atomic Energy Agency's nuclear energy infrastructure development milestones approach, in nuclear energy infrastructure development, nuclear security, and capacity-building. In so doing, the program supports secure, safe, and proliferation-resistant deployment of small modular reactors or other advanced reactors to partner countries.

Action:

Proposals are due January 17, 2025. An estimated $19.5 million is available to fund 10 awards ranging from $50,000 - $4 million.

Build Partner Resilience to Counter Proliferator State Hybrid Threats in the Nonproliferation Arena

FON:

DFOP0016984

Agency:

State

Item:

Notice seeking proposals for projects to address the erosion of nonproliferation norms. Within the last decade, there has been a concerning trend in the willingness of proliferator states to use weapons of mass destruction (WMD) materials, especially chemical weapons. In particular, the world has witnessed the repeated use of chemical weapons in multiple assassination attempts by different threat actors. This is often accompanied by conflicting and false WMD related false narratives that seek to deflect blame and cause confusion.

Action:

Proposals are due January 17, 2025. An estimated $9 million is available to fund 10 awards ranging from $50,000 - $3 million.
