

A Celebration of CSUB held on the university's campus on Saturday, April 30th, invites students, families and community members to come out and enjoy some fun activities, food, and entertainment.

Lorena Ramos

CSUB students and club members set up their booths and add last minute touches to impress the soon to come crowd.

Amazing Gourmet Ice has their work station out in front of Walter Stiern Library.

The College Assistance Migrant Program (CAMP) club members wait anxiously for the arrival of local high school students who they will be showing around the CSUB campus.

Students, families, and community members begin to stroll down CSUB's red brick road where various information booths regarding the university can be found.

CSU College Corps student members April Hernandez and Jesus Baez dance to the live music provided by Thee Majestics.

Even CSUB's Mascot, the roadrunner, makes an appearance on the Red Brick Road in honor of the celebration.

With the help of 20-year old CSUB student Harpreet Sahdhu, the Community Service Corporation live up to thier motto of coordinate, educate, and motivate by having people of various ages paint circles on the ground.

Psychology Club member John Ferguson invites people over to his egg toss booth for the chance to win some Willy Wonka Nerds candy.

12-year-old Maria Cuevas sits patiently as she gets a butterfly painted on her face at the Children's Activities Booth.

Diego Morales, a Compton Junior High School seventh grader, test out the jump-o-meter with the assistance of the Peak Club memeber and CSUB student Taylor Taylor.

The Delgado family takes a quick break from all the fun activities taking place at Runner Park.

Even though the CSUB campus is full of celebration today the importance of recycling is not forgotten; this bin is to the right of the food court area.

Sequoia Middle School eighth graders (from left to right) Cassandra Ortiz, Lupe Gomez, Creda Ramirez, and Miranda Vargas happily show off their face painthings and balloon art.

Activity and informational booths are in full swing at a very successful event of celebration on the CSUB campus.